

Race Day Parking Notes

As a sizeable fleet of out of town cars descends on Cable and Hayward on race day, one question is in everyone's mind, "Where do I park?" On race morning, where and how you leave your car will leave a lasting impression on the area's residents and law enforcement officials. With common sense and courtesy prevailing, you can make that impression a positive one.

First, please avoid filling up the local business lots in Cable or Hayward with your vehicles. The area businesses will need their parking spaces for their regular customers while you are out cycling from Point A to Point B. In addition please observe all posted restrictions and respect private property access when parking on residential side streets.

To provide assistance on race day, yellow vested Race Official parking monitors will help direct you to designated large lots in Cable and Hayward.

To help minimize the parking confusion, please note the parking recommendations and no parking restrictions. All recommended lots are within a short bike ride from the start lines. All area Church parking areas are pending race weekend restrictions that may be required for Church activity events (funerals, etc)
